

Society

Scott-Batte.

A wedding which was unusually beautiful in its solemnization and a notable event of the season, engendering much social interest, was the marriage of Miss Lucile Batte and Mr. F. L. Scott of Ft. Worth that took place on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Batte.

The home is the ideal spot for the solemnization of marital vows. At such times the sweet sympathy and earnest love of friends and those of closer ties seem more perfect and in accord with the occasion. The wedding was one such as this, and throughout the solemn scene, the expression of pure love and sincere affection was universal.

The reception suite, in which the relatives and the girlhood friends of the bride, including the Bachelor Girls' Club, were assembled, lacked nothing in the way of decoration which could have in any way given a variance that would have produced a more beautiful effect. In the music room where the ceremony was performed, a bay window, which was so well adapted for the occasion, had been banked in ferns and palms of varying height. Pedestal vases filled with long-stemmed chrysanthemums of snowy whiteness, added just the touch which was needed to complete a scene of loveliness.

A graceful arch of ferns encircled the altar from the center of which hung a wedding bell fashioned of lilies of the valley and ferns. Lighted tapers were everywhere in evidence and, with the glow from the electrolux, the illumination produced just the softness that lent much to the effectiveness of it all.

Just before the ceremony, Mrs. W. C. Davis in pleasing manner sang "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. R. S. Webb, who immediately after the song, sent forth the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The bridal party advanced from up stairs.

Miss Lella Davis, the little ring bearer daintily attired in a fluffy white organdy dress lace trimmed with pink ribbon sash, entered first. She carried the ring in a single white chrysanthemum tied with pink maine. The maid of honor, Miss Louise Ouite, came next, gowned in pink tulle and carrying white chrysanthemums tied with pink maine. Following came the bride and groom. The bride wore a handsome traveling suit of field mouse with fur trimmings, with accessories of harmonizing shade. A diamond bar pin, a gift from the groom, was the only jewelry worn. She held an arm cluster of briars roses tied with white maine. As Rev. M. E. Weaver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, pronounced the solemn words that made them one, and as the groom placed the golden circle, symbol of enduring love, upon the finger of his chosen bride, there was an unuttered prayer in every heart for a happy future to them who there plighted their troth. As the couple knelt on satin cushions during the prayer, the pianist played in soft undertone exquisite selections of appropriate music.

The esteem in which the young couple is held was attested not only by the presence and expressions of friends, but by a wealth of lovely gifts from all parts of the State. Among the presents was silver from the Bachelor Girls' Club.

The bride was reared in Bryan and has been prominent both in church and social circles. Amiable in disposition and endowed with that enviable quality of making friends, she is one whose departure will occasion much regret. She is highly educated and possesses great talent as a musician.

Mr. Scott is a young man of fine character and of superior ability, and during his school term at A. and M. College won a host of friends in Bryan and at College.

He is now an instructor in the Fort Worth high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott left immediately after the ceremony for their home in Fort Worth.

Lindsey-Morgan.

Hymen again decided that two hearts must be led to his altar and made one, and the solemnization of the profound rite was performed Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the pretty country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan, when their daughter, Cora, plighted her troth to Mr. L. Lindsey of Winters.

The solemnity of the occasion holds a deep significance, as the marriage was performed in the home where the bride has been reared from childhood, and the many happy events that have endeared the place to her were culminated at this time by the most profound occurrence of her life.

The rooms were decorated in a profusion of white chrysanthemums, arranged in crystal receptacles, and, for a background, which gave a distinctive note of simplicity, yet one of real elegance, trailing vines and potted ferns were used. The altar was arranged mainly of palms and ferns, and white blossoms, which in every detail was most appropriate.

The ceremony, which was conducted in a very beautiful and impressive manner, was solemnized by Rev. J. M. Bullock.

The bride wore a becoming coat suit of navy blue with hat and gloves en suite. She is very popular, beloved for her true worth and beautiful traits of character.

Mr. Lindsey is a young man of splendid attainments and promising ability, and is manager of a large ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey left on the night train for their home in Winters.

Pleasant Church Social.

The members of the Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church were royally entertained on Monday afternoon at the elegant home of Mrs. Lucy McDougald. This was a very successful, pleasant and largely attended meeting, each guest enjoying the pleasurable hospitality extended.

In honor of the hour this lovely home was radiant with quantities of fall blossoms. Pink Killarney buds and chrysanthemums arranged effectively in baskets and vases throughout the rooms furnished the pleasing environment, and, as the guests chatted in pleasant conversation, they were entertained by a program of music from a Victrola.

Mezames Janie Zuber, Dale Weddington, R. H. Harrison, E. B. Le-may and Lizzie Wilcox were assisting hostesses, they adding much to the success of the afternoon. Refreshments were served at a late hour and proved to be a lunch long to be remembered for its daintiness and wholesomeness as well.

Misses James Hostess to Bachelor Girls.

The meeting of the Bachelor Girls' Club Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Misses Corinne and Laura James as hostesses, proved another very pleasant assemblage of this jolly club to be added to those scored to its credit. That the membership is just large enough for all to come in pleasant contact, is one reason for the general good cheer which prevails among these girls.

The pleasant home was most attractive for the occasion and in arrangement for the welfare of the guests, who brought some articles of handiwork and chatted in cheerful manner while working.

The serving of brick cream and angel cake, featuring a color motif of pink and white, terminated the pleasant party hours.

A Complimentary Musicals.

A hospitality of last Saturday afternoon dainty in decoration and appointment, was the delightful musical given by Miss Mary Oliver Roberts in compliment to her guest, Miss Mattie B. Craig of Navasota, and Miss Ruth Lipscomb of Rockport, the charming guest of Mrs. R. S. Webb.

The adornment of the home was extremely lovely, being fragrant with quantities of exquisite pink roses and chrysanthemums, the spacious rooms presenting a beautiful scene with the blossoms clustered in crystal holders.

At 3 o'clock a congenial party of invited guests were seated in the music room, and the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Roberts, distributed dainty programs, which read as follows:

Program.
Piano—Hungarian Concert Polka
Elizabeth Wilson.
Piano—Valse Arabesque..... Lack Ethel Hall.
Song—A Perfect Day..... Bond Mary Oliver Roberts.
Piano..... Selected Belle Gainer.
Reading..... Mattie B. Craig
Piano..... Selected Laura Heard.
Piano—Showers of Stars..... Wach Kathleen M. Sims.
Song—The Bonny Blue Kerchief..... Daricott Florine Batte.
Piano—Gondolero..... Minetti Frances Mike.

The entire program was beautifully rendered and was a treat for the assemblage, and the serving of a course of brick cream and angel cake completed the pleasant affair.

Those present were Misses Mattie B. Craig, Ruth Lipscomb, Laura Heard, Lella Ferguson, Frances Mike, Belle Gainer, Ruth Lawler, Florine Batte, Ethel Hall, Kathleen Sims, Noble Webb, Elizabeth Wilson, Mildred Newton, Sarah Bell Wilson, Lida B. Pipkin, Annie Laura Terry.

U. D. C. Meeting.

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock members of U. S. Ross chapter U. D. C. assembled at their club rooms in Carnegie Hall for the regular monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. W. G. Tallafiero, presided. At the conclusion of the business session the president turned the meeting over to the historian, Mrs. P. M. Raynor.

The following interesting and instructive program was carried out:

Music—Maryland, My Maryland..... Chapter
Music, Instrumental..... Miss Clara Mawhiney
Paper, Author of Dixie..... Mrs. Tallafiero
Music, Vocal..... Miss Margaret Zuber
Reading..... Miss Regina Hart
Music, Vocal..... Mrs. Roy Danforth
Music, Instrumental..... Miss Bernice Harris

Thanksgiving Ball.

The Thanksgiving ball at A. and M. College, around which centers annually much interest and enthusiasm, took place last evening at Bernard Shiss Hall, and adds another brilliant achievement to the long list of memorable entertainments contributed by the corps of cadets in honor of the football team.

Bunting in red and white was used as a mural decoration, the figures 12 to 9 being brought out in relief. Palms and ferns were tastefully arranged around the spacious dance hall. The music was especially good, being furnished by an orchestra from Austin.

The dance programs were brown leather card cases for the ladies and note books for the gentlemen, and they contained the usual number of dances.

Mr. Johnny Garrity, captain of the football team, and a general favorite at the College, led the grand march with Miss Mary McCannico of Corsicana who wore an elegant gown of white messaline with overdress of chiffon. She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauties.

Quite a number of visitors from over the State were present and the affair was quite an elegant and enjoyable occasion and a brilliant compliment to the football team of 1915.

Notes and Personal.

Soon after Dr. Mrs. Algie Benbow had moved into their attractive cottage home on Ursuline avenue, a pretty courtesy was shown Mrs. Benbow by the Bachelor Girls, when they presented her with a lovely bridal remembrance consisting of coffee and bouillon spoons.

The Embroidery Club will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. R. Q. Astin.

Miss Willie McDougald will be hostess to the Bachelor Girls' Club on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

CAME FOR PRISONER.

El Paso Detective Says Deangeles is a Noted Crook.

W. A. George, captain of detectives of El Paso, Texas, arrived in Bryan yesterday afternoon and identified the Italian, Alfred Deangeles, who was arrested here a few days ago by Sheriff T. C. Nunn as the man wanted in El Paso on several charges of swindling and forgery. Captain George took charge of the prisoner and left on the return trip to El Paso last night. He stated that Deangeles was one of the slickest crooks in the West, and that he had swindled several prominent citizens and one or two banks in El Paso. The girl, Miss Elena Clausi, 15 years of age, who accompanied Deangeles to Bryan, is here with friends, but her parents have been notified that she is in Bryan, and money for her return to El Paso is expected in the next few days.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

O. E. Stark to W. O. Stark, twenty acres of land in the Thomas James headright league in Brazos County, consideration $75.

W. O. Stark to Beard Brothers, 45 acres of land in the Thomas James headright league in Brazos County, consideration $2,000.

NOTICE PUBLIC.

I have opened a tailor shop in the Daly building and am prepared to do first class work. Free delivery, prompt service. Will appreciate your patronage. Oliver Tucker.

NOTHIN' BUT FUN AT SLIPPERY GULCH

ASK US ABOUT OUR

CLUBBING RATES

WITH

STATE NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES